Aurora University Music Faculty To Perform March 16

AURORA, Ill. —Aurora University music faculty will present an evening of solo performances Tuesday, March 16, at 7 p.m. in Crimi Auditorium in the Institute for Collaboration, 407 S. Calumet Ave. in Aurora.

The public is invited. Admission is free. No reservations are required.

The program features virtuosic concert works for solo instruments, including Chopin's famous F-sharp Major Barcarolle, and art songs by Fauré.

Performers scheduled are Jeff Ford, Sugar Grove, saxophone; Heidi Hagglund, Aurora, flutist; Richard Larsen, Aurora, classical guitarist; Mark Plummer, Aurora, tenor and assistant dean, College of Arts and Sciences, and director of the University Chorale; Abby Musgrove, Aurora, mezzo soprano and assistant professor and director of Choral and Vocal activities; Ralph J. Petrella, Lombard, trombonist and director of the AU Jazz Ensemble and pep band; and Rose Marie Wood, Aurora, pianist.

Accompanists will be Sungha Chi and Cathryn Wilkinson.

Aurora University's music faculty, recognized professionals in their fields, perform and teach throughout Chicago and the western suburbs.

The university has recently expanded its music faculty to include instructors in violin, viola, flute, guitar, trumpet, trombone and euphonium.
